

Dear students of 10c,

In our last lesson before holidays, we finish talking about literature.

This time I want you to work at an excerpt of a novel - in German
Romanauszug – this time no short story.

Please, read an extract of the story “ Notes from the Midnight Driver“. It’s the story of a young, totally drunken boy who can't remember anything later on the next day. Something really bad must have happened, since he has to come to court.

While reading, you will find many unknown words. Don't panic, all you must do is get the main idea of the plot and characters.

After reading, please work at number 1 and 3a, page 32, in your students' books (keywords).

1. First impression of the beginning: .....

- Interesting passages: ....
- Funny passages: ....
- Thrilling passages: ....
- Hard to understand passages (including title): ....

2. What kind of person does the narrator seem to be?

- Look at the way

☆ he tells us about himself

☆ he tells us his views

☆ he tells about the midnight incident

Take into consideration what you find in the box A CLOSER LOOK (p. 32), be also aware of TROUBLE SPOT.

Do everything exactly and find your gaps 🤔

In our next lesson we will talk about your solutions, you may text me about difficulties - IF ...

Meet you then, yours Mrs Leschniewski.
