

Dear students,

I hope you could do all the tasks in listening I gave you last lesson.

Here you can read the answers (solutions).

A Dartmoor legend – "The Devil's footprints"

1. In 1885, people found footprints in the snow that went up the wall and across the roofs of houses.
2. People thought only the devil could do that.

Now to our next step. We also have lots of legends here in Germany. Do you know one of them?

First, take down the name of all legends you know or have heard which happened (passierten) in our region (sprich: riedschn). (Write it down for TOPICS in your folders)

Then, decide for one and write about it. That is going to be interesting. (By the way, put it into TOPICS in your folders, too.) If you like, you can send your legend to me. My adress is still: leschniewski@gymba.de

Good luck and have fun with the legend.

Yours, Mrs Leschniewski.
